

FROM OLYMPIC VILLAGE TO THE GREENEST NEIGHBOURHOOD IN THE WORLD

BEING POWER SMART MAKES BUSINESS SENSE

On February 16, 2010, the entire Millennium Water development on Vancouver's Southeast False Creek received LEED Platinum Neighbourhood Certification, making it the greenest, most energy-efficient and sustainable neighbourhood in the world—with help from BC Hydro's New Construction Program.

"If everybody achieved this standard of energy efficiency," says Hank Jasper, General Manager of Development and Construction for Millennium Development Corporation, "it would have a huge impact on the world we live in and share. It's also, of course, good business: the buying public want to live in a sustainable community."

BC Hydro's New Construction Program helps reduce the cost of building better, greener, more energy-efficient buildings from the ground up.
