

West End Substation construction consultation – May 19 – June 9, 2026

Review our construction plans and share your feedback

We're planning to build the West End Substation to help deliver clean, reliable power to downtown Vancouver. We expect to start construction in late 2026, once we've completed our regulatory process.

This spring, we're sharing an overview of our construction plans, and we invite you to learn more and complete a survey to share your feedback.
